TOP SECRET
The Director of Central Intelligence
Washington, D.C. 20505

3 April 1984

The President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

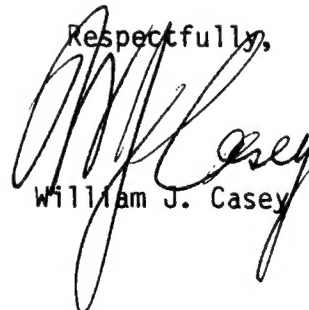

Dear Mr. President:

Enclosed is a copy of my Annual Report to the Congress on the Intelligence Community for calendar year 1983. This is the seventh such report prepared for Congress as required by Senate Resolution 400 and House Resolution 658.

This year's report is different from those of the recent past both in terms of form and content. As in my letter to you, I wanted to provide Congress with a comprehensive review of the success the Community has had in rebuilding its capabilities with Congressional support. To do this theme justice, I have had to summarize the activities of the past three to five years, and do it in one comprehensive document. I believe that Congress will come away from reading the report with a better appreciation of how the Community functions as an effective, highly integrated system.

I believe this report will provide the Congress with a fuller understanding and appreciation of the broad diversity of challenges that the Intelligence Community has had to confront. It also provides a view of the future technical and substantive challenges the Community must be prepared to face. This will be possible only with continued Congressional support.

Respectfully,

William J. Casey
